TEENQUEENUK

Local girls from all regions across the UK are being given the chance for their own little piece of fame by entering the fantastic TEENQUEENUK 2010 competition.

TEENQUEENUK was launched in December 2006 at the Clothes show live exhibition, NEC, Birmingham. Being the countries largest fashion exhibition, it enabled all those young ladies interested in fashion, beauty and modelling the opportunity to enter what is being labelled one of the most exciting modelling competitions around. The search for the 2010 contestants began in September 2009 and since then 4 monthly heat winners will be chosen to go through to the grand finale.

TEENQUEENUK not only enables girls from all walks of life and backgrounds the chance to give the exciting world of modelling a go, but also gives them the opportunity to take part in a professional photo-shoot at a top London studio. With a renowned team of top stylists and photographers and all attention on the girls, it is a once in a lifetime chance that most girls can only dream about.

The competition is split into two categories; Teen Queen for girls aged 16 – 19, the lucky girl crowned Miss Teen Queen 2010 will be given the incredible opportunity to go to an international pageant where she will represent her country. The younger age category Teen Princess is for girls aged 13 – 15, where the winner will go through to be given the chance to face campaigns by known fashion and beauty brands Fake Bake, Just Been Funked, MEMEME Cosmetics as well as Amplified Clothing, Toby Shop, PromPerfect Gowns and Dynasty Evening Wear, who will be looking for the right girl to become the face of their brands. The winner of the competition will also be introduced to top modelling agency Rage Models and may be given an amazing modelling contract to help kick start her career.

Girls will be both scouted at the Clothes Show and invited to apply to the competition on their own accord at the show or via the website www.teenqueenuk.com. From the selection process girls are then put forward for a public vote which will determine if they are to go through to the grand finale on August 2010.

The competition is supported by a whole host of fantastic sponsors which include: Amplified Clothing, Prom Perfect Gowns, Skills Train, Glitter Girls Boutique and Rage Models agency. Not only does the competition give young girls the opportunity to go through to an exciting grand final with great prizes, but it also has the support of sponsors who encourage the importance of education such as 'Skills train' www.skillstrainuk.com. Skills Train UK are offering training courses to all category winners, giving them a career kick start. TEENQUEENUK is a firm supporter of the Madventurer Foundation www.madventurer.com and all entrants are encouraged to understand the importance of supporting charities. During the winners reigning year, they will be encouraged to help raise awareness and money for The Madventurer Foundation.

In addition the winning girls will receive a whole host of amazing prizes supplied by our sponsors such as:, gorgeous clothing worth £3000 from Amplified, Sugar Bullets and Glitter Girls Boutique, Prom Perfect and Dynasty evening wear and products worth £1000 from hip professional brand Fake Bake and Just Been Funked and fabulous cosmetics brand MEMEME.

The finals are being held in August 2010 when girls will be vying for the two titles, Miss Teen Queen 2010 and Miss Teen Princess 2010. The grand finale will be hosted by two surprise celebrities and will also have a panel of judges made up of sponsors and celebrity personalities. The two winners from each category will receive their sashes and tiaras along with their prizes. Miss Teen Queen 2010 will go onto to represent her country in Miss Tourism International in Malaysia.
